Operational Definition: Legislative Expansion

This dimension of Hypercity design impacts from citizenship to capital attraction and financial interaction. It advocates for strategic downsizing, and lean organizational procedures, levels, laws, norms, regulation, and bureaucracies at large. Globalization requires innovative and adaptive legislative preparations, amongst others. Globalization is criticized by what it is said to brough like growing inequality, devalued national identities, reduced sovereignty, and allegiances though, the valorized cosmopolitan identity and the enlightening globalization trends, convergences of economies, such as the EU and the USA, and interactions has outpaced progressively, contrasting to the narrow, parochial ways of protectionism, tribalism, and the conflicts that is practically famous among the EACs. The HoA has nothing to worry by adopting this new configuration characterized by wide borderless horizon, as an option.

Borderless wide Horizon landscapes and scenarios:

It is to be noted that with The HoA Hypercity plan the intention is not to call societies completely abandon and live without borders or redraw new maps, but to create legislative expansions that encourage cosmopolitan empathy and perspective taking real. By doing so, the citizens of the parts will live in and out of the former boarders without being an insider-outsider notions, just keeping and respecting the cultural and identity differences. Addis Ababa and Dire Dawa in Ethiopia are exemplary metropolitans cities. Why not all other cities in the HoA live that way or better? Actually, this is dream could be made true by reconfiguring and creating the HoA Hypercity.

I suppose the packed boatful refugees, to anyone's bewilderment, are struggle seagoing to the EU, making "complicated and simple" decision. Why? Because the boxes from which they origin when fall (and are observed) under an empirically viewfinder it would show darkened citizen future and threatened and impoverished lives, at least in the perception of the decision makers, if not in reality.

Opening greater horizon than the nation states, I believe would help, curtail migration besides giving more opportunity and time to focus and address crucial development priorities.

The second image depicts Ethiopian refugees in Saudi Arabia, about being to be expelled to their homeland due to legal frameworks considerations. Saudi Arabia is not Hyperconnected, and that isn't its fault. The domestic officials in practical terms are engaged in counterfeited development activities, for example, busy in The Exploitation of Natural Resources while the priority is undermined. Issues, such as the social liberty and movement, migration and displacement, and the supply of electricity, water example raised in indexicality # 26 are in need, and a civic virtue requires government officials to put these interests of citizens first. They are suppliable, when governments foster Hypercitizenship, Hypercity and focusing on macro pattern development.

The current nation states are the result of the "scramble of Africa" and these boxes are only the roots for administrative complexities, conflict, and rigidness. In the case, of Ethiopia even after the fall of the socialist, "Degr" the new constitution with its downsizing of Ethiopia into ethic cores as divisional administration was not only anti-global trend but also source of repeated wars. For this I can figuratively say that Ethiopia is a representation of both "beauty" and "ugliness." The land is mostly fertile yet dependent on food aid as shown by indicated indexicality # 29 is ongoing due to various reasons.
